

Starter - Which of these sentences use commas correctly?

1. Jim is very clever, he doesn't always act that way.
2. I went to the shops and bought apples, oranges, limes, and mangoes.
3. Sandra, who was extremely tired, went to bed early.
4. The cat, which was lay on the bed purred loudly.

Today, we are going to plan our letter home.

WALT plan an informal letter

We are going to imagine that we have been evacuated from London and have arrived in the countryside.

You need to tell the person you are writing to about your journey, being 'selected' when you arrived and what your new home and family are like.

Imagine you are writing this at the end of your first day in their house.

Using the blank plan, fill in your plan thinking about

- what would you have wanted to tell your parents

- how are you going to show this informal / chatty tone?