

What can you see?

Click me to zoom out

People getting off a dinghy that has landed at a beach in Lesvos, Greece.
Photographer's credit: George Makkas/Panos Pictures/ActionAid

What can you see?

Click me to zoom out

Some of the ActionAid team in Lesvos, Greece.
Photographer's credit: George Makkas/Panos Pictures/ActionAid

What can you see?

Click me to zoom out

Hamid, an ActionAid worker, helps an Afghan Family with a disabled woman in Moria refugee camp, Lesvos, Greece. Photographer's credit: Anna Pantelia/ActionAid

What can you see?

Click me to zoom out

ActionAid worker, Ditte, in the ActionAid women's space in Kara Tepe refugee camp in Lesvos, Greece. Photographer's credit: Anna Pantelia/ActionAid

What can you see?

Click me to zoom out

Iraqi children in Kara Tepe refugee camp, Lesvos, Greece
Photographer's credit: George Makkas/Panos Pictures/ActionAid

Next: Hamam's story

The boy on the right of the front row in this picture is called Hamam. He's 10-years-old and from Iraq. He has an incredible story to tell about how he got to Lesvos. Let's read it!

Change lives. For good.

act:onaid

Today, you are going to be reading some stories about children who are living through conflict, in different countries from around the world.

Read through their stories and then answer the following questions

- What has the child experienced?
- How has conflict affected the child's life?
- Have you learnt about how they have been helped?