

Can you rewrite these sentences, adding the embedded clause into the sentence.

main clause - The concert gave me a headache.

embedded clause - which was too loud

main clause - My phone is not working.

embedded clause - which is brand new

main clause - Colin searched for the rabbit.

embedded clause - battling the wind and rain

main clause - The villain rubbed his hands in glee.

embedded clause - laughing menacingly

WALT write a newspaper article

Today, we are going to be writing the first few sections of our newspaper article.

Headline

Opener

First part of the main body

Example

Dragon Descendent Discovered

It has been reported that on Thursday 7th April, an amazing discovery was made by a member of the public who had been walking their dog in the Forest of Dean.

John Day had been out walking his spaniel, Seren, when he noticed an unusually large egg in the undergrowth beneath his feet. Upon further investigation, John observed that the egg had peculiar markings upon the shell. Being an avid bird watcher, John was instantly intrigued by the egg as it was unlike any he had come across before. Mr Day decided to take the egg home, where he could keep watch over it during the incubation period. Mr Day was staggered when, a few days later, he noticed cracks beginning to appear in the shell, and it was not a bird that emerged from the shell, but a dragon-like creature, covered in scales.