Top tips on how to keep your child healthy at school – The Education Hub \(blog.gov.uk\)

- This outlines that parents should ensure that children are up-to-date with vaccinations such as measles.

It also covers basic hygiene:

- Wash their hands for at least 20 seconds using soap and water.
- Use tissues for coughs and sneezes then throw them in the bin.
- Avoid touching their face, particularly their eyes, nose and mouth

Childcare through the DfE

The DfE have launched a new site for parents to check if you are eligible for free childcare:

Getting Ready for Christmas

Some children at Sandpits Road had a lovely time decorating the tree and getting the hall ready for Christmas this week.

A message from our PCF Partners:

Thank-you for your support in sharing and promoting the Parent Survey. We had a great response with 329 returned in total, of which 191 were from Parent Carers who were supporting a child with SEND or suspected SEND.

A wide range of experiences were shared by parent carers but there are consistent themes across the 20 Shropshire schools. A significant number of responses regarded the benefit of improving communication between schools and families, frustration over difficulties accessing support, and delayed responses to concerns.

Parent carers valued continuity and cohesion across the whole school. They felt that some teachers had a good level of SEND knowledge while others had less understanding of how best to support individual children. They report that this leads to inconsistencies in approaches and provision which they say impacts the learning and progress of their children.

Parent carers shared their concerns over accessing specialist support as well as support from teaching staff. Funding at a school and county level was mentioned multiple times in relation to diagnosis and access to specialist advice, therapies or interventions.

Many parents reported a lack of knowledge of the support that their child receives while in school and many would value more regular updates on issues relating to their child's additional needs.

Parent carers would like there to be a better understanding of masking and the implications that this has on their child's education in school and life outside of school.

Parent carers greatly value where staff listen to them and take account of behaviours that happen at home in addition to those they have seen in school. Multiple parent carers report good relationships with schools when this has been the case.

Children's anxiety, and parental anxiety over a child's SEND while they are at school, were also raised as areas of concern. Where this was raised, it was also mentioned alongside communication and a lack of understanding of how their child is being supported in school.

In addition to issues that parents were worried about, there were also many comments praising individual members of staff, the schools and support that families had received. These included parents saying that they had 'chosen a school because classroom environments were particularly inclusive for neurodivergent children', they valued how 'approachable,' 'understanding' and 'supportive' staff were and that they 'felt listened too.'

We are now booking the second Parent Carer group meetings with schools, all of which will be completed by the end of November. These will take place during the hour after drop-off or the hour before pick-up and will be open to any parent carer with SEND attending the school. The meetings will be a chance to discuss the themes in the school's survey responses, to identify the top 3 issues that Parent Carers would like to discuss with the school leaders, and to talk about how everyone can keep in touch and up to date with SEND news. Each Parent Carer group has a closed Facebook group hosted by PACC. These will support ongoing discussions and enable information about the support and services available in Shropshire and wider community to be shared.

After meeting with each Parent Carer group, PACC will work with the school leaders to understand the feedback from families and to work together to respond to the key areas for improvement. While PACC will host a further Parent Carer group meeting in the New Year, ongoing communication and discussion between schools and their Parent Carer community will be encouraged. Thank-you once again for welcoming us into your schools, replying to e-mails quickly and supporting us in setting up the parent carer groups. We look forward to seeing you again soon.

PINS update Autumn 2

Since September we have been participating in the 'Partnership for Inclusion of Neurodiversity in Schools' (PINS) programme, which aims to improve support for children with additional needs.

In October, all staff received some training from Niki McGarvey, Outreach Specialist Advisor, titled:

Practical strategies for creating inclusive and supportive environments for neurodiverse and ALL children.

This week we have conducted a language audit across school. This will help us to think about how we can further improve the way we use language to communicate, both written and orally, to ensure we are inclusive of all learning needs. Staff will receive further training on this in January.

SEND Opportunities

Please see below some further opportunities for pupils with SEND.

Actio are excited to share their new video highlighting the All-In programme. Actio is a collaboration between Energize Shropshire, Telford & Wrekin and PACC (Shropshire's Parent Carer Forum). Actio aims to improve activity opportunities for children and young people with SEND in Shropshire. Parent Carers and All-In members are encouraged to learn how Actio can support their child's wellbeing and explore new activities. Watch the video to find out why and how you can become an All-In member. Or if you're already an All-In member, you may be surprised at how many other activities are available for your child to attend.

Please watch the new video on Actio's website here:

School Uniform

A polite reminder that trousers, skirts and pinafores should be dark grey, not black. Please also note that leggings should not be worn as they are not part of our school uniform.

All children should wear black school shoes please, not trainers.

Full details of our uniform can be found on our website:

Contacting Teachers and Senior Leaders

If any parent has a concern to raise with a teacher or senior leader, we respectfully ask this is done via the school office or admin email – admin@ludlowprimaryschool.co.uk and not Dojo or individual email addresses. This will enable your query to be dealt with more effectively and efficiently.

Thank you

Parking

There have been reports of people parking on the zig zags outside school recently. Also, of cars being dangerously parked or blocking driveways on St. Julian's Road.

Please be considerate when dropping off and picking up your children, and only park where it is legal and safe to do so.

Thank you

Positively online

The NSPCC have published six tips to help you improve your family's online wellbeing. They also provide you with a guide on how to talk to your child about what they are doing online as well as a quiz that you can play together.
