Mother's Day

How Did Mother's Day Begin?

In the 16th century, Christians would go back to their 'mother' church. This might have been the main church in their town, the church they had been baptised in, or the cathedral.

Often, children left home at ten years old, and got jobs in domestic service. Girls became maids in big houses and boys worked in the stables looking after the horses. They lived in the same place where they worked and were not allowed to go home very often.

Visiting Mother

On Mothering Sunday, children were allowed to go home and see their mother.

As they walked home, they would pick wild flowers along the paths and give these to their mothers.

Refreshment Sunday

Mothering Sunday is always on the fourth Sunday of Lent. This day was also called Refreshment Sunday. This was because during Lent, people did not eat food that was not good for you. On Refreshment Sunday, the rules about Lent were not as strict and people could eat a wider range of foods.

Did You Know...?

Simnel cake is a traditional Mother's Day cake. It is decorated with 11 balls of marzipan. These represent the 12 disciples, but one of them, Judas, handed Jesus over to the soldiers, so Judas is left off the simnel cake!

Mother's Day is a great chance to thank all the amazing women in our lives for all they do. It could be our Grandma, Nana, Auntie, guardian, sister, carer or Mum.
